

PRIVATE SECURITY SECTOR PROVIDENT FUND HOSTS STAKEHOLDER INFORMATION SHARING SESSIONS

The Private Security Sector Provident Fund (PSSPF) extends an invitation to the private security employers and consumers of private security services to its annual stakeholder information sharing sessions.

According to the PSSPF Employer Trustee Marchel Coetzee, the objective of these events is for the Board of Trustees to interact with the valued stakeholders on the PSSPF's initiatives to achieve sector wide compliance for the benefit of all employers, security services consumers including security employees and their families. The latter includes sharing information on the Fund's adopted turnaround strategy that aims to improve operational efficiency reinforcing the PSSPF's vision of being a sustainable value benefit creator in the private security sector.

Other stakeholders invited to participate in these information session are the Department of Labour and the Private Security Industry Regulatory Authority (PSIRA) to also engage the stakeholders on the new industry requirements and current activities embarked on by the latter institutions.
